A contract is a legal agreement between two or more parties enforced by law. The basic parts of a contract contain:

- Capacity where all parties of legal age and sound mind;
- Mutual agreement made willingly;
- Consideration where the parties receive something of value for performing; and
- Legality under the law not involving illegal conduct.

Breach of contract remedies include these damages:

- General damages including monetary settlement or money won in a lawsuit;
- Consequential damages (special” damages) like attorney’s fees, loss of use or goodwill;
- Reliance means losses suffered in reasonable reliance on a promise; and
- Specific performance where the court orders the defendant to perform a specific act.

Syndicate Legal Advisory Services provides contractual legal services for every business, profession, family and individual.
